WANTED...

No matter where one goes — north, east, south, or west — people are always looking for the BEST. Here, in Southwest Virginia, at CHS the 1995 school year begins. Students are extremely busy making decisions. These decisions include sports, clubs and whether or not to keep the chosen classes. CHS is always trying to find scholars, athletes, and faculty who stand above the rest. As the year progresses, so will the people. Saddle up for the long, but thrilling ride ahead.

Allison Buckles

Be mine....Travis Ingle and Bobby Vinson show their love over lunch.

With hot sauce please....Catrina Mullins, Jason Street, Kristy Leonard, Bobby Hall, and Michael Skeens run for the border.

Snooping around....Amber Arney and Elizabeth Sabo search through Niki White's bag.

Chillin' out. . . Jason Rose is excited to be getting out of school for the day due to the ice storm.

Hanging out. . . Renee Evans, Jennifer Long, and Lisa Wampler express their true feelings at SVCC on an art trip.

Are they looney?. . . Jonathan Snipes, Naomah Bush, and Misti Evans portray their heroes.

BEST IN THE SOUTHWEST. . .

BY ALL THE REST!

Tutti Frutti. . . Kristy Gibson, Amy Combs, Valerie Taylor, and Nicole Musser show their "fruity" faces.

Indulge. . . Wyanah Bush savors a bite of hot fudge cake which makes HomeEc a favorite class today.

Not in here. . . David Owens cannot find a pencil in that mess.

All ears. . . Shannon Duncan entertains her friends at the Martha Washington Inn while waiting for her meal.

All tied up!...B. J. Lasley, Jonathan Snipes, and Chris King try to untangle their ties.

Are we lost?...Tonya Long, Paige Gibson, Alison Wright, Melissa Worley, Bill Sandstrom, and Shawn Kiser enjoy their trip to the Barter Theater.

It's the Chipmunks!...Brian Salyer, Travis Lambert, and Josh Sawyers perform their Christmas Chipmunk routine for the yearbook staff.

WANTED RENEGADES, DEVILS, & ROGUES

Student life at CHS is like living in the wild west. From lassoing good grades to shooting bad guys at a ballgame, students always come through. The females at CHS show their beauty by being showgirls at the beauty pageant, while on the other hand, the guys express their feminine side at the Mr. Senior contest. In the spring, the warm weather brings out the couples decked out for the big "shindig."

Allison Buckles

Stay in school... SCA members show off their marquee and support.

Nice hat... Tyson Ball, Casey Ball and David (back) sport their Ma & Pa's hats.

Amazing... Sarah Dickerson joins in the policy pinball.

Hopping down... The girls... will... best get prepared for their... and... fact.

Come on... gathering... it's... it's... it's...

A Little Devil Spirit

Behind the make-up... David Francis and Brian Banner are bad to the bone.

Be very quiet... Steve Justice and Shawn Kiser are hunting a wascally wabbit.

Peek-a-boo... Mary Ann Newberry and Jennifer Newberry display their originality on Mismatch Day.

Two of a kind... Sherry Steffey and Amanda Turner have matching blue and white faces.

Hats off... Michael Skeens, David Reed, Thomas Helbert, and Randy Street take advantage of the opportunity to wear hats in school.

Be like Snuffy... Nathan Long puts on the old bibs to look like his idol, Snuffy Smith.

Maybe it's Maybelline... B.J. Lasley paints up his face to fit in with the girls.

Eightball... Shaun Austin shoots through Mrs. Jones' door heading for the side pocket.

The Good, the Bad, and the Beautiful

"Head 'em up and move 'em out" were the words heard as the 1994 Homecoming festivities got underway. All week students showed their school spirit participating in various events including Hat Day, Roll-Up Day, Mismatch Day, Hillbilly-Redneck Day, and Blue and White Day. Everyone got a little bit "rowdy" at the pep rally, especially the Seniors, who won the spirit stick. As the parade made its way through the town of Castlewood, the crowd cheered, the attendants waved, and the band played.

The action continued on the football field as the Blue Devils "rounded up" the Holston Cavaliers and drove them out of town with a 29-20 victory.

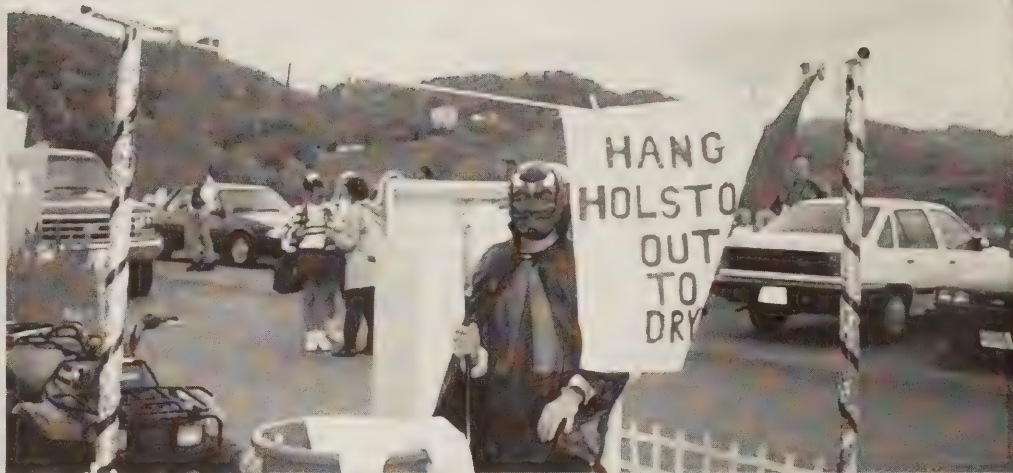

There was a "stampede" in the bleachers as the representatives entered the field. This year there were several additions to the court as each club elected attendants. Niki White was crowned Homecoming Queen and was escorted by Brian Salyer. The junior class received first place, Seniors second, and the sophomores took third in the float competition.

Niki White
Brooke Hall

Hang Holston out to dry. . . The junior's float won first place during Homecoming.

Creative classroom. . . Mrs. Atwood's door shows many hours of artistic dedication.

A little light. . . Wynonah Bush tries to find the right shade of white to match the devil blue.

Senior attendant Nicole Musser with escort Casey Ruff.

Senior attendant Shannon Casteel with escort Daniel Glovier.

What a Woman!

As the saloon doors swang open, the student body kicked back and enjoyed watching the Senior "show girls" of '95 strut their stuff. These lovely young "women" competed for the most prestigious honor around. Fourth runner-up, Sanford "Courtney Love" Fields sang softly to satisfy everyone's soft side. Third runner-up, Jason "Jammin' Jasmine" Castle had the beat of the judges' heart. Brian "Heaven Lee" Salyer tiptoed through his ballet into the second runner-up position. First runner-up Joey "Gem Gender" Hulsey sang seductively to the crowd. The winner Daniel "Dazzling Danielle" Jessee astonished the crowd with his sensuous talent.

Travis Lambert

Waiting nervously... The Mr. Senior contestants get serenaded by Wynonah Bush.

Mama's little boy... Brian Salyer transforms into Mama's little girl.

How dreamy... Jason Castle flaunts his femininity to the crowd.

And the winners are . . . Fourth, Sanford Fields; Third, Jason Castle; Second, Brian Salyer; First, Joey Hulsey; and Winner Daniel Jessee.

Rocking the House . . . Wynonah Bush gives an electrifying performance.

Mr. Senior . . . Daniel Jessee shows his talent.

Is that Mrs. Breeding? . . . No, it's Jonathan Mullins tickling the ivory.

Spirits in a Ghost Town

Halloween has always been an aspiring day for students at CHS. This year's students dressed up in their favorite costumes which ranged from Zorro to Bozo. On October 31, 1994, the FBLA sponsored a Halloween Dress-Up Contest. Twenty-two students competed for the title of best costume. Fourth place was given to Travis "Zorro" Lambert, third place went to Steve "Old McDonald" Justice, second place was awarded to Daniel "Robin Hood" Jesse, and the grand prize winner was Wynonah "Granny Grenelda" Bush. This Halloween proved to be one of the most successful days in CHS history. Even high school students are not too old for a little "Trick or Treating."

Tonya Holbrook

Wynonah is in town. (Bush, that is) "Granny Wynonah" sings to the audience as "Hillbilly Steve" dances a jig.

A couple of fruit-cakes. . . All eyes are on Niki White and Amy Combs.

Call 911. . . Mary Hicks looks frantically for the fire.

The Night "Tails" of the First King

King for a night... Jason Castle is crowned as CHS' first homecoming king.

Homecoming is a popular event here at CHS. Girls dress up and ask some guy to do the honor of escorting her on the court. This year during the girls' basketball season, a change was made. Instead of a homecoming queen, Mr. Glover pinned a homecoming king. The guys got to dress up and go around asking some lucky gal to escort them. The SCA provided tuxes for the underclassmen and tails for the three senior attendants. Jason Castle was pinned the first ever CHS homecoming king. The night was a big success.

Rebecca McReynolds

The Fab Four... The Seniors receive their honors before they take to the court.

Changing places... Niki White turns the table and escorts Brian Salter.

CLASS
'95

Living in the Wild, Wild West

One day I was sitting in class, when I fell into a deep sleep. I drifted off somewhere I'll never forget. I went back in time to the 1800's and there I saw many familiar faces. I was sitting at a bar and I looked up to see the friendly face of the bartender, Brian Salyer, who was trying very hard to get me to tip him. I gave him a dollar and walked to a table and sat down. I noticed sitting beside me was Steve Justice. I could tell by the way he was slumped down in his seat that he had been there for a while. About that time the stage show began. Showgirls Niki White and Allison Buckles kicked up their heels to the singing of Wynonah Bush. When the piano player Jonathan Phillips began playing, "The Yellow Rose of Texas", Bobby Vinson and Sandford Fields pulled their guns and demanded "All Apologies" be played. After listening to the song, I walked out and saw "Bad Bob" (Morrison) the gunslinger. He was mad because his sweetheart Jody Richardson had been fooling around with Kenny McCulley, the owner of the general store. I decided to steer clear of him.

I went back to my room at the Hamric Hotel run by Jesse Hamric and his wife Georgeanna Wallace. After a short nap, I enjoyed a meal prepared by cook Daniel Jessee and served by the waitress Misti Evans. After my meal, I sat out on the porch to see who might come by. First, I saw the ruthless bounty hunters Lewis Maxfield and Daniel Glovier. They were on the lookout for the cattle rustlers Todd Davis and Joey Hulsey. Then, I noticed lying by the porch was Shawn Kiser and Greg Hall out cold from a run-in with the famous pugilist Robbie Miller.

They had made some off-color remarks to his wife Brooke Hall. I helped them to Dr. Steven Sproles' office. He and his nurse, JoAnna Witt fixed them right up. Just when I had sat down, there was a commotion at the saloon. It seems that Renee Evans and Lisa Wampler, the saloon girls, had gotten into a fight over who would serve drinks to Aaron Dickenson. During the fight, several innocent bystanders were injured. Clyde Jessee, the blacksmith, widow woman Kristy Gibson, and sheriff Michael Cline were all victims of the rough housing. After this incident, I saw Sarah Holbrook and Becky McReynolds tending to the poor injured people. The whole town of Castlewood was talking about the problem at the saloon. The journalist of the town, Josh Sawyers, was getting the scoop on what had happened while janitors, Jason Monk and Nicole Musser cleaned the mess up. After all the excitement, I found myself drowsy. I laid down for a nap and the next thing I knew, Mrs. Wright was yelling at me to turn in my journalism assignment.

Shoot-Out At The Devil Den

On Friday, February 3, 1995, a "Shoot-Out" was held at the Devil Den as the Castlewood Blue Devils went head-to-head against the Rural Retreat Indians in a little basketball action. However, basketball was not the only thing that happened that night.

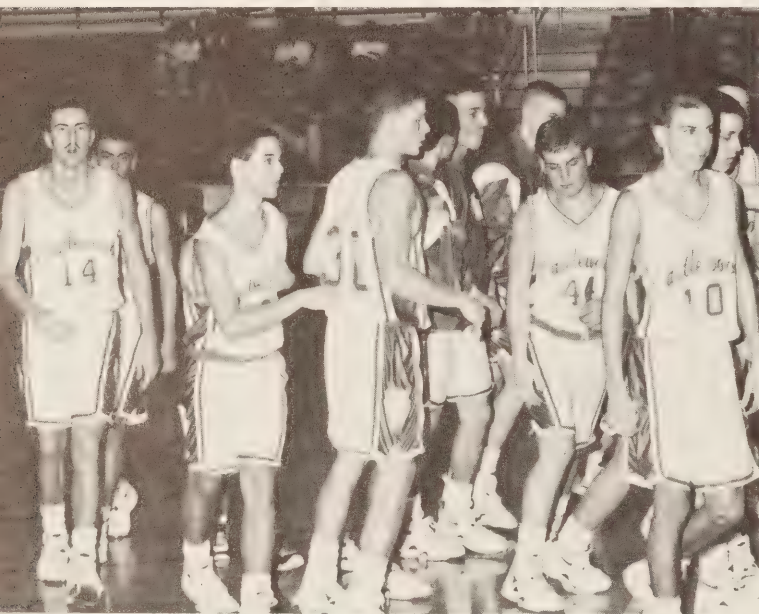

CHS proudly honored its VIP guests, the Temple Hill Girls' and Boys' Basketball Teams on their 50th anniversary during halftime. Then to complete the halftime festivities the Homecoming Court made itself the center of attention as Miss Kristy Gibson was crowned the 1995 basketball homecoming queen.

When the shots stopped and the smoke cleared the air, the Devil's came across with a 102-58 victory over the Indians. No victory is complete without a celebration, so to top off the evening the student body of CHS came together to celebrate with a Homecoming Victory Dance.

Tonya Holbrook

Leap Daniel leap...Daniel Jessee gets up off his feet to tip the ball to a fellow Devil.

Pumped and ready for action...The Devil basketball team is ready to bring down the house.

Ready to win and ready to fight...The Blue Devil cheerleaders wait anxiously for the basketball team to burst through.

Ready, aim, fire...Josh Miotke prepares to rip yet another "three."

Queen of the court...Kristy Gibson is all smiles as Mr. Roger Glovier crowns her the 1995 Basketball Homecoming Queen.

Endless City Nights

The night was May 6, 1995, and there was a certain excitement in the air. All the decorations were in place and the lights were low. One by one the coaches drove up and each Cinderella and her Prince Charming entered the ball for an "Endless City Night."

At this year's prom there was a change. The junior class hired the band, PRS-7, from Springfield, Massachusetts, to perform. Everyone enjoyed dancing barefoot to their favorite tunes. As the evening progressed, the time came for the royal court to be crowned. Niki White was crowned Queen and her King was Eric Smith. The Princess was Catrina Mullins and her prince was Mark Jessee.

As the clock neared midnight, the ball came to an end. Each couple left in their coaches before the spell ended. Everyone agreed the prom of '95 was truly a success. Thanks to the junior sponsors and the prom committee for a job well done.

Reagon Porter

Escorted in style...Mrs. Harding makes her grand entrance, sporting her antique tuxedo, with Lisa Wampler and Sarah Dickenson on each arm.

All tied up. . .Tonya Long, William Couch, and Reagon Porter have Jacob Musick decorated for the day.

And the crowd awaits. . .The elegantly dressed crowd eagerly awaits the opening of the doors to the Junior-Senior Prom.

The perfect couple. . .Sandford Fields and his beautiful date Jennifer Broadwater arrive in style from the ride in their evening limousine.

The Royal Court. . Prince Mark Jessee, Princess Catrina Mullins, Queen Niki White, and King Eric Smith display their royal smiles.

Footloose. . Paige Gibson and Daniel Jessee get down to the music of PRS-7 and swing to the beat.

So formal. . Sarah Holbrook and date Josh Sawyers look very stylish beside the elegantly dressed Misti Evans and date Mike DiPerna.

Dance card full. . Jeff Bush, Amber Arney, and Reagon Porter are only a few of those steaming up the dance floor as the band brings them to their feet.

Beauty And The Beach

As the lights dimmed on the night of May 19, 1995, the beach beauties of CHS gathered together to compete for the titles of Miss CHS and Junior Miss CHS. The Junior Miss pageant was held first with Natasha Ring being crowned the 1995 Junior Miss CHS. Then six "lovely ladies" took the stage to try and gain the title of Mr. CHS. The gorgeous Miss Jeffrina Bush walked away with the much envied title. Wynonah Bush, Amber Arney, Rita Sanders, The Beach Bum Ushers, and Coach Sabo provided entertainment that everyone enjoyed. Finally, sixteen beautiful ladies walked across the stage to compete for the title of Miss CHS. The Miss CHS 1995 crown went to Miss Kristy Leonard.

Tonya Holbrook

Beauty at the beach. . . Kristy Leonard was crowned Miss CHS 1995.

All smiles. . . The Miss CHS contestants anxiously await the judges' decision.

There "she" is, Mr. CHS . . Jeffrina "Jeff" Bush takes his walk as the new Mr. CHS.

Junior Miss winners are . . . Nancy Holbrook, third runner-up, Amy Wampler, second runner-up, Natasha Ring, Junior Miss CHS, Amanda Turner, first and Jodie Barnette, fourth.

Woo those judges . . . Catrina Mullins flashes her best smile to the audience as she makes her grand entrance.

Miss CHS winners are . . . Brooke Hall, fourth runner-up, Nicole Musser, third runner-up, Kristy Leonard, Miss CHS, Beth Osborne, first runner-up, Niki White, second runner-up.

WANTED . . . Villains and Victory

The athletes at CHS understand that the lessons they learn apply to life as they do to sports. These future stars know that teamwork is essential to win. They not only represent themselves, but the entire community as well. In sports only the strong survive, but to be strong, a team must have team leadership and team cooperation. That is why the athletes here are winners. The athletic program at CHS is filled with competition, determination, and respect, but the program itself is built around Devil pride.

Travis Lambert

Bubble Yum. . . Shannon Casteel concentrates on delivering the pitch while a bubble slips out.

Lean on me . . . The Varsity Cheerleaders band together to form the strength of the pyramid.

And the shot . . . James Roberts shoots over a number of defenders to score a bucket.

Iron will . . . Todd Glover shows his strength as he wrestles his opponent to the mat.

Get pumped . . . The football starters await the announcement of their fellow players during the homecoming pep rally.

The Boys of Spring

With all the talent that graduated last year, no one gave this devil team a hope. With Senior Todd Glover leading the way, this baseball team was determined to prove everyone wrong. This team was both young and inexperienced, but they battled the best competition and had the lead during every game. Nothing can measure the effort and time these dedicated athletes put in to make themselves better. Without the motivation of Coach Glass and Coach Long the team wouldn't have achieved what they did.

Travis Lambert

Strike 3. . .B.J. Lasley looks strained after his strenuous pitch.

On Your Mark...Get Set...Go

They're going into the home stretch and Castlewood wins again. These words were heard all during track season as the Castlewood Blue Devil track team won meet after meet. Both boys' and girls' track teams had an extremely good year. Two of these members, Stacie Dorton and James Roberts, excelled and went to state. The whole track team deserves much credit because of their many hours of practice and dedication. Credit should also go to the coaches, Larry Shortt for boys' track and Tom Allen for girls' track. Everyone who ever put on running shoes or jumped a hurdle wearing the blue devil colors deserves to be recognized.

Jacob Musick

Peace, man...Charity Phillips and Liz Sabo take a break for a snack during a track meet.

It's out of here... Jason Rose throws his disc into the next area code.

Where is that bus? . . .The track team waits patiently for their bus to arrive for yet another track meet.

"The young squad had a good year with contributions coming from the seniors and the returning lettermen. The future looks bright." Coach Larry Shortt

"We had a young team with a promising team next year." Coach Tom Allen

The CHS-Girls' Track Team... Melissa Worley, Misti Maples, Liz Sabo, Tina Rose, Tiffany Hall, Heather Kenyon, and Coach Tom Allen.

Champion Team

Power at the plate. . . Wendee Minton waits to hit her pitch.

The 1995 Blue Devil Girls Softball Team.

Hustle girls. . . Coach Sabo gives his team a few words of advice while coaching.

For every graduating athlete, there are two rising superstars from the underclasses to step into the spotlight. The younger athletes at CHS are coached and taught to follow in the footsteps of the "Veteran" athletes. With any luck the "Young Guns" of CHS will fulfill their role as superstars of Castlewood High School.

Travis Lambert

The '94 season was a very productive one for the girls' basketball team. They would stop at nothing to get to the top of the ladder. After winning the district title, they then moved higher by defeating Chilhowie to bring home the tournament championship. By using their skills and talent, the Lady Blue Devils made their way to the regional championship game against defending state champs Floyd County. Unfortunately, they were defeated, but everyone was, and still is, very proud of their excellent performance.

Rebecca McReynolds

Gazing into the future...Misti Maples, Kelly Salyer, Alison Wright, Val Taylor, and Kristy Leonard predict when their next victory will be.

SLAM DUNK

Practicing their ball handling skills...The Varsity Devils show how they can have fun and work hard at the same time.

Driving to the bucket...Niki White scores two easy points with teammates Heather Maxfield and Kelly Salyer ready for the rebound.

“You’ve Gotta Have Heart”

Reversing roles...The Lady Devils are “in shape” in the stands rather than on the court.

Head Coach John Sabo sums up the team's successful season.

“To be successful in anything, one must be devoted, have respect, and have a heart. The 1994 Girls' Basketball Team won the regular season and district championship, a regional runner-up trophy, and a trip to the state tournament. I was proud of their accomplishments and the respect they had for the game and the coaching staff. The team's motto sums up our success: “Everyone has arms, and everyone has legs, but not everyone has a heart.”

Like peas in a pod...The CHS Girls' Basketball Team always sticks together, no matter what.

School Spirit...Several teachers and students expressed their support for their Lady Blues as they prepared to go to the Regional Competition.

No Girls Allowed

This is too easy...Heather proves to Leon Marshall girls are tough too.

Maybe once in a girl's life she is told by a group of boys that there are no girls allowed. But finally one girl didn't listen. Heather Kenyon decided to join the wrestling team which is usually made up of tough, burly guys. Now there's a new addition: a tough, determined girl.

Since wrestling is a mostly male dominated sport, Heather was against the odds. However, she has become the first female wrestler in CHS history. While wrestling is a grueling, sometimes painful sport, Heather was determined to be her best and Coach Taylor had a definite twist in his coaching.

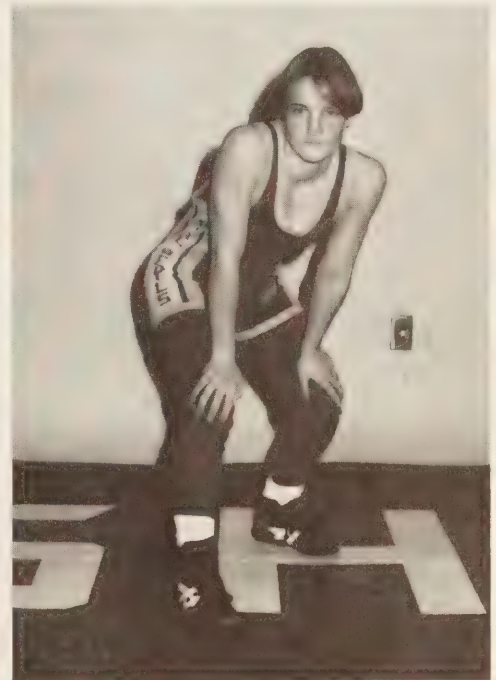

Because Heather was the only girl on the team, it changed the way things used to be. The tough guys had to be conscious of the fact there was a lady around and conduct themselves as such. The bunch of guys were apprehensive at first, but totally accepted their new member.

Will Heather be an inspiration to many aspiring female wrestlers within the school and district? Only if they are daring and determined enough. As Shawn Kiser or Todd Glover will tell you, wrestling is no bed of roses. But one special girl was willing to give it a shot. Now the "No Girls Allowed" sign has been replaced with "Girls Welcome."

The Beginning of a New Era

The 1994-95 Castlewood High School wrestling team has had a great, productive season. The wrestlers have undergone a strange but unique change with the arrival of Heather Kenyon. Heather being the only girl on the team changed her fellow wrestlers' dispositions.

The mighty Devils came out of the Hogoheegee District Tournament with a second place finish. The wrestlers also had a first place finish in the John Battle Invitational Tournament. They also traveled to Powell Valley for the Region D Tournament. The outcome of the Regional Tournament sent five of Castlewood's best into long, extra hours of practice and preparation for the State Tournament. Shawn Kiser led the way with a first place finish in Regionals and fifth place finish in State. Todd Glover had a second place finish, David Francis third, Freddie Barnette and Sloan Lambert fourth in Regionals.

Travis Dishman

Hold that thought. . . Coach Taylor stares into space as he is in deep thought about what to do next in his P.E. class.

"I'm well pleased with the overall effort of the whole team because wrestling is such a tough and difficult sport."

Coach Taylor

I'm number one. . . Todd Glover gives a sigh of relief that his match is finally over as the referee acknowledges his win.

Glad to meet you. . . Sloan Lambert shakes hands with his opponent right before he pins him.

Rough Day. . .Coach Kiser is exhausted after helping prepare the Homecoming activities.

Small talk. . .Coach Kiser enjoys chatting with Kristy Leonard and Kelly Salyer about the Homecoming court.

The year was 1985, and a young cowboy came strolling into CHS. This cowboy was Laymon "Butch" Kiser. Cowboy Kiser came to CHS to show the football team how to rope their opponents. Coach Kiser has dedicated many long years to coaching. He stood by his herd through rain, sleet, and snow. However, Coach Kiser decided this year to hang up coaching and hold the title of Athletic Director. As Athletic director, Coach Kiser has more responsibilities than when coaching. Now Coach Kiser is always in season. He did not leave the athletic department. He became head honcho! Hats off to Coach Kiser!

When We Say Blue...

It's a cool Friday night, and the crowd is anticipating the appearance of the mighty Blue Devils. All at once, the silence is broken by an eruption of loud claps and cheers. This is the chants and cheers of the CHS cheerleaders in support of their team.

The cheerleader's responsibility is to support the basketball and football teams in defeat and victory. Though the night may be freezing, or the gym stuffy, the cheerleaders can always be counted on to cheer on the team and get the devil blood pumping.

Although these ladies are sometimes overlooked as being athletes, this does not discourage them. Their voices are loud and school spirit unlimited. So remember Devil fans-WHEN WE SAY BLUE...YOU SAY DEVILS!

The Second Coming!

After last year's group started a dynasty, it was only fair for the 94-95 Devils to carry on this legacy of pride and dedication. The new group of Devils learned a lot from last year's group. Five of last year's players returned to team up with a new group of Devils getting their feet wet for the first time. The four seniors: Jessee, Monk, Salyer, and Sawyers, wanted this season to be one to tell their grandkids about. There was a lot of promise, and a great deal of pride.

The Devils got off to a slow start due to a strong early season schedule, but were able to win six straight games at the end of the season. This momentum was able to carry over in the play-offs against John S. Battle. The Devils ran into a strong George Wythe team that outplayed the Devils. Nevertheless the team achieved far beyond expectations. The future keeps getting brighter every year for the Devils.

“Diggin’” for Gold

Pass, Set, Kill. The Blue Devil volleyball team has been through it all. Their dedication and love for the game has brought them through the conditioning of jumping the net, rope, and bleachers, running suicides and sprints, and passing the five-pound medicine balls. Through all the fights and tears, these Lady Devils have developed skills, determination, guts, and heart. Next year there will be five positions for others to fill but the memories will always be cherished.

Showdown at Sunset

As the smoke cleared, the 1994 football team held its head high. This group of gifted athletes came together and found what the meaning of "family" really meant. The Senior posse showed the newcomers "the tricks of the trade." The football regulators will remember the fun and the emotions they all shared together as one. A wise sheriff once said, "Success is measured by what one learns from their teammates." There are no laws that can hold these vigilantes from fulfilling their hopes and dreams.

The football team is unique compared to ones of the past. This team consists of speed, talent, strength, and most importantly, the desire to play the game. As the sun sets, they will prepare for the next showdown.

Wanted: Three Mr. Cleans

Throughout the years at CHS many people have definitely been WANTED! Many of the people that should be wanted sometimes get overlooked. This year the yearbook staff has found a few good men who work long hard hours and spend most of their time doing what everyone else doesn't do. They are always on patrol to make sure CHS always looks its best for expected and unexpected occasions. During the winter, these men get out of bed extra early to get to school so it will be warm for the students when they arrive. During the summer when the rest of CHS is on vacation, they are painting the rooms or polishing the floors. Because of their unending jobs and constant improvement to our school, the 1995 yearbook staff would like to dedicate this yearbook to the CHS custodians — Mike Clatterbuck, Sherman Bise, and Roger Hale.

The Library Queen

After devoting 21 years of her life to CHS, Mrs. Gibson has decided it's time to move on. She has been somewhat of a mother figure to all of the students. From checking out a book, to asking for advice, Mrs. Gibson has always been there for us.

As she turns the pages of her book of memories at CHS, she smiles. Of course this is a sad departure for her but she will not be forgotten. Whenever we enter the library, visions of her sitting at the computer telling the study halls to hush will enter our minds. Mrs. Gibson is a lady that will surely be missed by all.

This is so touching . . . Mr. Milton turns the pages of his last year at CHS.

What will CHS do without the Biology Dad? After 27 years, Mr. Milton has decided that because of his illness he must retire from the beloved halls of CHS.

Everyone is sure to agree that he will be missed.

Whether it was from getting help with plant cells to asking for a weather prediction, Mr. Milton has always had the answers. He has certainly been a teacher everyone has looked up to and loved. What will CHS do without the Biology Dad? The answer is easy. Always keep the memories in our hearts, and if you ever need the weather, just call him up.

The Newcomers

The eighth grade class of 94-95 entered CHS with a sparkle in their eye and a spring in their step. They had finally achieved one of their highest goals: making it to high school.

The Class of '99 has realized that they are starting all over. However, they have much to look forward to. Any upper classman would tell them that right now the journey may seem long and endless, but in the end they'll make memories to last a lifetime.

The eighth grade class of 94-95 is truly a unique and outgoing one. They will have many decisions and choices to make during their years at CHS, but the cards are in their favor. Without a doubt, this class will redefine the meaning of success.

Dimension SRC

Do do do do Do do do do. . . Imagine you are entering a dimension of the unknown. There is one of these dimensions located in the dungeon of CHS. The students know it as Student Responsibility Center (SRC). It sure isn't the Hyatt or a Best Western, it's more like a rest stop bathroom. There are all the comforts of a prison; heat, light, and always a guard on duty. Let's say that you were tardy for class, horseplaying in the hall, or cutting up in class. There is only one thing to say, "You are going to Disney World — I mean SRC." Confined to SRC, students do their homework. Forrest Gump put it best when he said "Life is like SRC — you never know when you are going to get it." So the next time you get into trouble just remember the punishment.

The freshmen class feels that they have finally made their mark in the world. As freshmen, they feel more important because of their new social status.

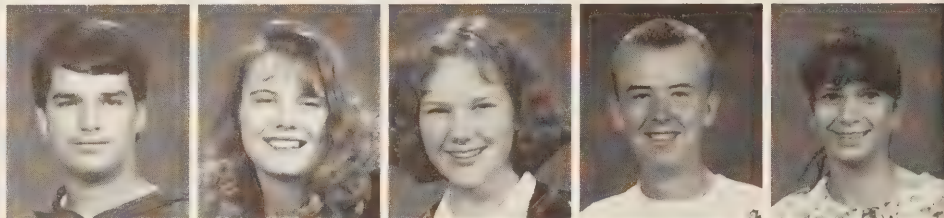

The freshmen year for these desperados is a very important year. A note for this freshmen class is, no matter how many times you get bucked off, keep getting back up.

An Inspiration For Us All

Each year hundreds of students pass through the doors of Castlewood High School. Each of these students possess a certain quality that makes him or her unique. There is one special, young gentleman that holds a special place in everyone's heart. This young man is Mr. Jason Hatfield.

Jason truly is a remarkable person. He has overcome incredible odds to pursue his schooling. Brave, bold, enthusiastic about life, and happy are just a few words to describe his personality. His outlook on life is wonderful.

Many people have had a major influence on Jason's life — his family, his teacher Mrs. Pat Huff, and his friends, just to name a few. This time is, as he says, "Special".

Jason has enjoyed his years at CHS. He loves the classes he is taking, especially French. He also enjoys all of his business classes. Jason is really looking forward to the year 1997. That is the year he finally gets to graduate.

On most Friday nights one can find most teenagers at a high school football or basketball game. Jason is certainly no exception. He loves to come and watch all sporting events. That is what inspired him to go on to college and pursue a career in coaching. His dream is to be a high school coach.

With that ever trusting, heart-warming smile, Jason shows the world what a terrific person he is. He may not realize it now, but he truly is an inspiration to everyone.

Thank you, Jason, for always being there to brighten our day.

Tonya Holbrook

Hard at work ... Jason is in deep thought as he takes yet another test.

House of Style

"What should I wear today?" This is a question all of us ask ourselves as we prepare for a glorious trip to school or a night out on the town.

Many people are influenced by their friends on what to wear. Just like hair cuts, dress styles vary. Some people want to stand out from the crowd, others want to blend in like everyone else. Many of us want to make a statement by our clothes.

A few of the types of styles are: casual — which usually consists of jeans and a simple shirt or sweatshirt; dressy — a guy wears a dress shirt, pants, and dress shoes and the ladies wear a blouse and skirt or a long dress with heels; trendy — baggy jeans and a "slammin'" shirt; last but not least is the cowboy style — a western shirt with blue jeans, a large belt buckle, and cowboy boots. Certainly these are not all the dress styles here at CHS, but these are the most popular.

Before you go into a panic on what to wear, think of what fits comfortably and chill. Because whatever you wear, somewhere there is some style for it.

Power Steering

The young cowboys and cowgirls of the sophomore class saddle up to go through one of their best years in school. As they put their freshman year under their belt buckle, these buckaroos start to grow into their ten gallon hats. They have new experiences coming upon them. It will be a wild rodeo this year for the class of '97. They will be going through drivers' education to learn how to drive their own stagecoaches. Many of these rough riders may get their own mode of transportation, ordering class rings, and starting to raise money for their Junior Ho-down. As time goes on many things will be forgotten, but one thing is for sure — these buckaroos are in for a wild ride that will remain forever in their memories.

The junior class of '94, although small, has accomplished many large tasks throughout the year. The task most proud of was the junior float, which earned first place in the contest during Football Homecoming. Along with the sparkle in their eyes, there was a sparkle on their fingers. The 1996 class-rings had arrived. Being such a small class, raising money for the prom was tough. But in the end, the satisfaction of creating a successful prom was enough for everyone. Throughout the year the juniors have reached many goals, and all they can say is, "Good things come in small packages."

CLASS OF

The men of CHS . . . Brian Sawyer and Josh Sawyers help the SCA decorate for the boys' Homecoming Game

In your face . . . Yearbook editor Allison Buckles had her birthday cake and ate it too.

As we are on the threshold of new lives,
The problems concerning peace, justice, and equality
Seem to be dark shadows of the past.
Yet they overcast our days.

Our thoughts of what lies ahead are so positive,
But those faint glimmers of the future peer at us from unopened doors.
Now we see bold images of the present
That decorate our passage to being adults.

Nothing seems wrong behind rose-colored glasses,
But soon those glasses come off to expose the real world to us.

We step into our lives cautiously,
But hopefully.

We remember our school and feel grateful for those carefree days

And for friends cherished for a lifetime.
Pushing ahead, we take all we've learned
And travel out to conquer our dreams.

Never forgetting from where we came.

MEMORIES, ALL THOSE WONDERFUL MEMORIES

"Memories, all those wonderful memories..." This year's graduating class, as every class must, has come to the time they've all been waiting for... GRADUATION. However, as the time comes closer and closer, many are now realizing how hard it is going to be to say good-bye to yesterday. Several are understanding that what their parents have said numerous times, "Enjoy high school while you can, it's the best time of your life," is becoming true.

Over the past five years, many hopes, fears, laughs, and tears have been shared within the walls at CHS.

Friendships have grown, loves have come and gone, but there will always be a sense of unity among each member of the class of '95. As another year comes to a close, we must each travel down our own paths. Most will go in different directions; however, we shall never forget everything we've shared, and we will hold in our hearts forever many wonderful memories. Just as the west is gone, and the spirit lives on, the class of '95 will never die.

At The Crossroads

On Sunday, June 4, 1995, the senior class took its first step into the process of graduation with their baccalaureate service, provided by the Russell County Ministerial Association. After the processional the invocation was given by Steven Sproles. The speaker for the service was Rev. Steve Collins who gave the seniors hope and inspiration to pursue their dreams without losing sight of what really matters. The benediction was given by Lori Taylor, followed by the recessional.

Allison Buckles

A fine intro. . .Shawn Kiser introduces Reverend Steve Collins, whose message to the seniors was very inspirational.

Listening closely. . .The seniors pay close attention to the words that may affect their future success.

Travel lightly. . .Rev. Steve Collins instructed the seniors on the best ways to travel the paths of life.

Walking proudly. . . Sarah Holbrook and Allison Buckles make their way to their seats.

A song for the class. . . Wynonah Bush, accompanied by Calli Sutherland, sings "How Great Thou Art" for her senior class.

A final exit. . . Principal Roger Glovier watches proudly as the '95 senior class leaves their baccalaureate service.

A solemn moment. . . The senior class looks very serious as they stand for their class to make the last entrance into the CHS auditorium.

Last Call For All Seniors

Many tears were shed on Tuesday, June 6, 1995 as the Senior class made their final appearance as students of CHS. Mixed emotions were shared as some were tears of joy, but most were tears of sadness. The ceremony began at 8:00 p.m. when the blue and white gowns marched into the gymnasium. Sarah A. Holbrook, salutatorian stood before the class one last time to give her words of wisdom. Following her, Steven "King" Sproles enlightened everyone with his valedictorian speech. Next, Dr. Lorraine Turner presented the diplomas while Mr. Glovier presented yellow roses. The Senior class chose this flower because it represents friendship.

After all the diplomas were given, Mr. Glovier pronounced the class as graduates and the tassels were then placed on the right side. Then the 1995 graduates marched out and gathered in the foyer to say their farewells. Many hugs were given not only to friends, but to the faculty as well. The faculty of CHS should be proud because when seniors leave them, they feel they are leaving good friends who taught them about life as well as academics. For some this would be the last time they would see each other for years. As they go their separate ways these seniors hopefully left a lasting impression for the underclassmen to follow.

Head of the class. . Steven Sproles enlightens the class with his knowledge as valedictorian.

Honored guest. . Dr. Lorraine Turner presented the diplomas to the seniors.

Singing for the last time. . .The Senior choir members give their final performance at graduation.

Good evening. . .Sarah Holbrook welcomes everyone before giving her salutatorian speech.

Look at us. . .Niki White and Shannon Casteel take a break from the seriousness to attract some attention.

THE LAST

LAUGH

May 24 was one of the last times that the class of 1995 was together as a group. It was the annual CHS Senior Day Picnic. This was a chance for seniors to lay back and forget about school for a day. Seniors also took advantage of the all-you-can-eat buffet. To burn some calories, the seniors could play volleyball, football, badminton, or soccer.

Many seniors worked on their tan, but ended up getting a bad case of sunburn. It was a day that all seniors enjoyed and will remember for a long time. A lot of thanks has to go to the senior sponsors for preparing this special day for our pleasure.

Josh Sawyers

V is for Victory. . . Niki White shows the victory sign as the girls' volleyball team shores up for a win.

How's our tan? . . Lori Taylor, Beth Osborne, Shanna Hileman, and Melissa Wright work on their tans during the picnic.

Taking a breather. . .Daniel Jessee, Becki Wallace, and Wynonah Bush take time out to rest their legs.

Tasty!. . .Who says Coach Poole can't cook? The seniors chow down on the grub.

Relaxing together. . .Some of the classmates spend time together chatting about how much they will miss CHS.

SCATTERED

THOUGHTS

Any Way You Look At It

Accentuate the Positive

CHS students, come on down! You're the next participants to receive awards at the 1995 awards day ceremonies! CHS students received scholarships, medals, and certificates for their academic achievements. Also, the new SCA officers were sworn in for the 95-96 school year. Smiles shone brightly as Mr. Glovier called the winning names to take their walk upon the stage. Every teacher, student, and parent was proud of those who excelled at CHS in the academic field and look forward to the next year to see the other smiling faces. . .proud and excited.

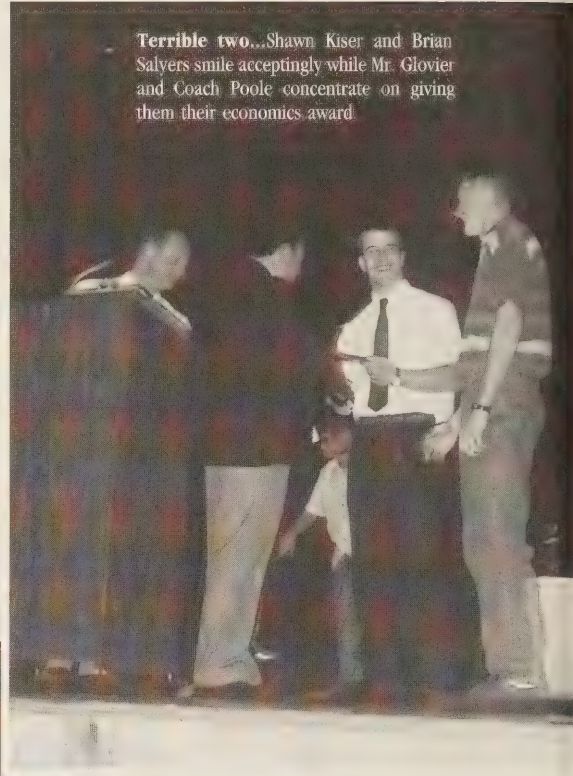

Catrina Mullins

The next award goes to... Mrs. Miotke laughs at the next name to be called as Jonathan Cozzolino examines his medal for Science 8.

Everyone's staring at me... Tiffany Hall is excited to be on stage as Mr. Knybel hands her a band certificate.

Terrible two... Shawn Kiser and Brian Salyers smile acceptingly while Mr. Glovier and Coach Poole concentrate on giving them their economics award.

This is just for you... Gina Turner accepts the business award but is a little confused about Mrs. Huff's expression.

Laugh out loud... Mrs. Harding got a little tickled when Amber Phillips came to receive her certificate in Civics.

On my honor... Mary Hicks, Elizabeth Sabo and Mark Jessee are sworn in as officers of the SCA.

I knew I'd get this... Allison Buckles smiles as she receives her award from Mrs. Wright for being the editor of the new yearbook.

Is that for me? Jonathan Snipes seems surprised as Mrs. Johnston tries to give him his medal for physical education.

The three amigos... Steven Sproles, Jesse Morrissette, and Sarah Holbrook smile proudly with their Air Force math and science awards.

Reach out and touch someone... Mr. Glovier reaches for Misti Evans' hand as she receives her Marine academic award.

Wanted. . . Devil Dedication

School doesn't have to be all work and no play. To get away from the neverending pressure of school work, the students at CHS can get involved in various clubs. Clubs allow students to participate in many different fundraisers. The money from these fundraisers is used for field trips, parties, and other fun activities. These activities make school a little more enjoyable for the students.

Jacob Musick

Whispering sweet nothings. .
Thomas Helbert and Brit Wallace give the mysterious man a little advice on CHS clubs.

City slickers. . Jennifer Broadwater, Mark Jessee, Christi Evans, Travis Lambert, Mary Hicks, and Jacob Musick prepare for the "Endless-City Night."

50's girls. . Tonya Holbrook, Christi Evans, and Reagon Porter take a trip back to the days of Elvis, poodle skirts, and ponytails at Mrs. Wright's farewell party.

Pretty is. . Shanna Hileman arranges some flowers to improve the looks of the classroom.

Attention please. . Mrs. Devins reviews Gaye Skeens, Jennifer Newberry, Shannon Hileman, and Melissa Wright for the upcoming FHA events.

The Key Is Cooperation

Contrary to popular belief, SCA does not mean Students Cutting Algebra. It is the Student Cooperative Association, and it's one of the most popular clubs here at CHS. Although SCA is fun to be a member of, it takes hard work to get things accomplished. Just ask Niki White, Travis Lambert, or Shawn Kiser.

Mrs. Harding, Ms. Sabo, and Mrs. Allen are the "head honchos" of the SCA. Even though sometimes SCA sponsored activities get hectic, they keep their cool and pull everything off as a great success. This club's success is credited to these ladies.

One of the words in SCA is cooperation. All the students cooperate and work together to make CHS a better place. Whether it's decorating for Homecoming or selling those wonderful posters, it takes cooperation. The students in this club have definitely learned the meaning of that word.

Reagon Porter

Piece of cake...Niki White will go to any lengths to fulfill her duties as President.

Right on key...President Niki White, Vice President Travis Lambert, and Secretary Shawn Kiser are always playing in tune.

They're so excited... and they just can't hide it... Lori Taylor, Denise Chaffin, Misti Evans, Shannon Duncan, and Mary Newberry give their undivided attention at an assembly.

The Get Along Gang...SCA club members stand proud.

Santa's little helper...Shawn Kiser gets confused about where he should hang the wreath.

It's a tough job...But somebody's gotta do it. Travis Lambert and Shawn Kiser call roll before a meeting.

Deadlines Amuse Us . . .

Chowing down. . . The yearbook staff takes some time off for their combined birthday party.

Only the best. . . The choice of the best picture for her layout is Niki White's main concern.

Swallow that. . . Tonya Holbrook sits straighter so Catrina Mullins can see what's going on too.

Rhythm aces. . . The Christmas Chipmunks - Brian Salyer, Travis Lambert, and Josh Sawyers - entertain the staff with a medley of Christmas tunes.

Perfection. . . Travis "T" Lambert won't settle for anything less than perfect on the yearbook computer design.

Assume Nothing

Wanted: The Inside Source

As the search continues for the best, we find the journalism staff as the inside source. This unique staff produced everything from the theme to the money it took to publish the book. The dedicated staff worked many hours taking pictures, designing layouts, writing copy, and editing everything. When everyone else is vacationing, the yearbook staff is finishing those last minute events and checking proofs to make sure everything is perfect for the arrival of the book. Even before the big day arrives the yearbook staff is already working on next year's book. This staff definitely deserves a round of applause. They took a lot of constructive criticism from Mrs. Wright and myself and continued to smile throughout the year. After all the debates and meeting all deadlines, we present the final copy for all to see! We hope it is as much fun for you as it was for us.

Allison Buckles

Working hard. . Allison Buckles is always striving to do her best as editor-in-chief.

The gang. . Catrina Mullins, Tonya Holbrook, Travis Lambert, and Reagon Porter relive the 50's with an Elvis movie marathon.

A little R & R. . Mrs. Wright, the yearbook adviser, takes a much needed break from the frenzied pace that never ends, even in summer.

Keep smiling. . . No matter how tough things get, Niki White never lets deadlines get her down.

Always busy. . . Josh Sawyers, business manager, tries to catch up on the bills.

All together. . . The yearbook staff stops for a picture before going to sell ads.

Yes, I'm sure. . . Travis Lambert never questions Mrs. Wright's judgment on yearbook matters.

Eight heads are better than one. . . The yearbook staff puts their heads together to come up with new ideas for the new Castleonian.

To my staff. . . It has truly been a pleasure to work with such a fine yearbook staff. You gave me your best and you have a great yearbook to show for it. Thanks to my "summer crew" for finishing up and thanks for a memorable year. I learned much from you and I will miss you.

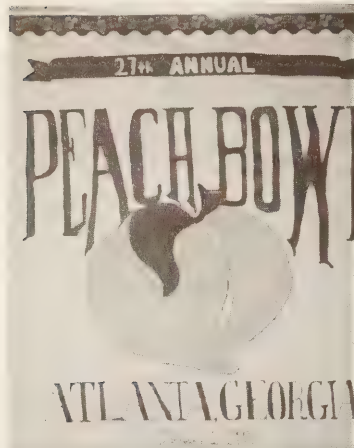

JAW

Playing . . .

We got spirit, yes we do...The CHS band takes a breather in between performances.

It's a messy job...Mr. Knybel cleans up after a brilliant performance from the band on homecoming.

Chillin' at Atlanta...The band takes a vacation that is long overdue.

A New Tune

New threads... Miranda Kiser shows off their new uniforms.

Throughout the years many excellent bands have come and gone, but never before has one of Castlewood's bands performed at a major bowl game. This year's band has gone through many troubles in the past, such as the change of directors. Mr. Knybel took over after Mrs. Pruitt and has turned this band around. No one thought that this year's band could make it to a bowl game, but they surprised everyone. The Mighty Castlewood Marching Band took their skills to the Georgia Peach Bowl. The Devils marched down Peach Tree Street in the opening parade, and they received an excellent rating in their performance during the pre-game show. The band then relaxed and enjoyed the first half of a great football game. The Castlewood Band next took the field for the half-time competition.

They received a division three in the field show competition.

After all the hard work and time the band members had put into the trip, they finally had some free time to have fun. They visited the CNN building and the Coca-Cola Museum as well. The band also went to Underground Atlanta, one of the biggest tourist attractions in Atlanta.

Not many bands have held the honor as Castlewood's band, but none are more appreciated than this one. They stuck with it and didn't quit, even when no one believed in them. This band will always be remembered.

Jason Street

And it's good... Mr. Kynbel sinks the shot against the Harlem Rockets.

Marching in time... The CHS band marches through the hall for the pep rally.

Expressing Vocal Ability

The echoing coming from the auditorium is the sound of the CHS choir. Their dedication and hard work shines through, while upon the catwalk singing their hearts out. This group of young men and women put in extra time to prepare themselves for two concerts, Christmas and spring. Who knows? Maybe the next Garth Brooks or Reba McEntire will come out of this considerably good group of students.

Rebecca McReynolds

Which verse is that? . Tanya Alley, Sherry Steffey, Nicole Musser, Angie White, and Amanda Statzer lost their place while taking a breather.

Fa la la. . The soprano section sings with spirit at the Christmas choir concert

Do, re, mi. . Mr. Addison warms up his choir before they begin singing

All together. . The 1995 choir stands proudly before practicing for their concert.

Preparing for the Future

The Future Homemakers of America is a club to teach one responsibility, leadership, and care for others. They have taken fruit baskets to the rest home, adopted a grandmother, and sponsored a White Christmas child. From cooking and cleaning, to babysitting an egg, the FHA prepares the young men and women for the real world.

Rebecca McReynolds

You grow 'em, we peel 'em . . . Shanna Hileman and Jason Castle carve their apples to look like a turkey while on an FHA field trip.

A break from the kitchen. . . The Future Homemakers of America are: 1st row: Mrs. Bevins, Shanna Hileman, Carrie Bush, Melissa Wright, Gaye Skeens, Jennifer Newberry, Naomah Bush. 2nd row: Mark Smith, Brooke Hall, Christy Hall, Sarah Dickenson, Rebecca McReynolds, Niki White, and Chris Snipes.

I want to go home . . . Melissa Wright, Gaye Skeens, and Naomah Bush look relieved as the field trip comes to an end.

More Beta Brains

On November 14, 1994, ten elite juniors and Seniors were formally inducted into Castlewood High School's BETA Club. Throughout their school years, these students have strived to accomplish outstanding goals and achievements. Always living by their motto, "Let Us Lead By Serving Others", the members of the BETA Club try to set a good example for all underclassmen. It is quite obvious that those students are leaders in both school and the community.

Recognition...Joseph Duncan receives his BETA certificate with honor from Mr. Glover.

Passing the torch...The next generation of BETA Club members lights their candles for the induction ceremony.

Speak Now and Hold Your Piece

The Castlewood Forensics Team has always been underestimated. Just like any other sport, forensics takes time, dedication, and practice. The forensics team only competes about three or four times a year, but their success is immeasurable. Joey Hulse won first place in regionals and first place in state in boys' prose. Josh Miotke and Wynonah Bush won first in regional and third in state in duo interpretation. These students can sit back and enjoy the spotlight.

Travis Lambert

It's a fire!!! . . . Joey Hulse performs his state-winning selection.

Isn't that Atticus Finch? . . . Josh Miotke and Wynonah Bush practice for their date with state in Serious Dramatic Interpretation.

Business Buckaroos

Tomorrow's business leaders are today's students. At CHS the FBLA Club has only the good, bad, and not the ugly in it. The club is under the guidance of Mrs. Pat Huff, esteemed business teacher and student adviser. This year the group has divided their time and donations to the White Christmas program, visited the nursing home, and took the best of the best to compete in the Russell County competition.

All the dedicated business students have put much time, hard work, and fund raising into making this one of the most popular clubs. For "you-all" that want to count your time as well-spent, this club is a worthy choice.

Kristy Leonard

How much longer?. The FBLA students wait impatiently for the bus to arrive for the trip to the rest home.

Type it up. .David Dingus, Billy Bradley, and another student peck away on the latest keyboarding assignment.

Look this way. . Mrs. Jessee, Mrs. Huff, Mrs. Castle, and Mrs. Allen have a quick chat before heading to another business class.

Hear ye hear ye... Mary Hicks and Amy Wright try to call the FBLA meeting to order.

What a crew... The FBLA group and their sponsors get a quick snapshot to show their unity.

Service with a smile. . .Denise Chaffin and Mary Neece open up the buffet for the FBLA luncheon.

Grammar Gang

Back in the old west not many people had an education like we do today. Ain't we lucky? These days students learn not only their ABC's, but also about poetry, novels, and many historical writers. Grammar is also a very essential part of life and since the first days of high school, teachers have pressured us to speak it correctly. Remember that the key to success is understanding the language. Cuz if us ain't got no learnin' then we'uns don't know nuttin'.

Catrina Mullins

English is a breeze...Jill Burkett, John Hurd, and Frankie Robinson struggle to finish their assignment while Chad King smiles as if it were a piece of cake.

Another day, another assignment...Angie White and Mandy Salyers hurry to finish their work, as Susie Collins takes a break.

Leader of the group...Shaun "Hair" Austin demands Tonya Long use another color on their drawing as Sonny Franklin overlooks them both.

Draw Partner

he two-headed monster...Charity Mullins assists Coach Poole with his second personality.

A master at work...Bobby Hall seems hard at work while he creates another fantastic masterpiece.

Everyone has a hidden talent and many of the students at CHS excel in art. The artists are inspired by Jo Harding, who expands the creativity and minds of the members of her classes. Many enjoy exploring their artistic ability, and in this class students are allowed self-expression through their artwork. The works are often on display for all the other CHS students to admire. Hopefully some of these students will go on to have a career in art and, who knows, maybe the next Picasso is now a CHS art student.

Catrina Mullins

Not bad for a guy...Valerie Taylor examines Chris Boyd's work during art class.

I missed a spot...Mrs. Harding puts the finishing touches on her new face.

No Cowboy Talk Allowed

There are three foreign languages taught at CHS: Spanish, French, and Latin. Mrs. Jones teaches the Spanish class, Mrs. Stevenson teaches the French class, and Latin is taught in an electronic classroom. The Latin students are taught by watching an instructor on the television. Students are not only taught to speak and conjugate the language, they are taught how to be part of the language. They do common everyday things in the language they are taking such as singing and cooking. When you take a foreign language at CHS, you step into a whole new world full of fun and excitement.

Brooke Hall

Do not pass go. . .Misty Maples and Tina Rose try their hand at a game of French monopoly.

Is it straight? . .Brandon Artrip and Ryan Smith hang their French flag on the wall.

Look at that cake...Elizabeth Sabo and Elissa Worley wish they could take a snack break during French class.

I pledge allegiance. . . Brian Castle raises the flag for the French class.

Crank up the volume. . . Travis Jessee, Adam Sargent, and Dustin Phillips listen to some Spanish music during class.

Gross Anatomy

When it comes to science, CHS has much to offer. Throughout the years, the science department has improved greatly. Not only have they gained more supplies, students have also gained a new science teacher, Mrs. Jacqueline Hackney. Taking a science class requires a great deal of responsibility. A science project is one of those dreaded assignments a science student is required to do. Although it may not seem fun at the time, it is educational and a great learning experience.

Sarah Dickenson

It's gonna blow... Mary Hicks watches nervously as Christi Evans ignites their experiment.

Is it an amoeba or a paramecium?...Mary Newberry tries to define the object on the slide.

Is that two ml?...Jennifer Newberry waits for Joey Hulsey to mix his magic potion for their assignment in chemistry class.

How The West Was Won

When signing up for a history class, the first thing that comes to mind is NOTES! But history is a lot more than just notes. It is a chance to take a year, start in the past and travel up into the future. This year there was an addition to the history department, Sociology and Economics. History helps us to interpret things that are going on in the world today. If we read the newspaper or just watch the evening news, we will have a much better understanding of how things in the world are run today. History is not only notes, it is a way of life.

Sarah Dickenson

What's your sign?...Stacie Dorton and Michelle Wright read their horoscopes during the final minutes of U.S. History.

Love that history...Tonya Long and Bobby Hall look absorbed in class while Jeff Bush and J.C. Maxfield debate the Civil War.

Keep it between the lines...Valerie David and Shannon Evans color their maps while Leanne Keith is away in dreamland.

H higher Learning

How many people do you know that would sign up for extra studying? Not many, right? Well guess again. They are the few, the proud, they are the Academic Team.

The Academic Team started studying in August. The coaches, Mrs. Stevenson and Mrs. Breeding, said that this was the hardest the Academic Team has worked. The team competed in the Russell County Tournament at the Russell County Vocational School. They finished third in the competition.

Jason Street

What's the Answer? . . Yvette Bush, Jennifer Broadwater, Steven Sproles, Dawn Shell, and Beth Chaffin discuss the answer to give Castlewood the lead.

Working Man Blues

Over the years at C.H.S. there have been many enterprising students who have entered the work force prior to graduation. Most students work at fast food restaurants, but there are those who do work interesting jobs. In addition to after school work, there are those seniors who divide their day between school work and a job. They leave school when they've finished their final class, whether it be third, fourth, fifth, or even sixth period. These students can get an education and earn a little money as well.

Allison Buckles can keep the medicine chest well supplied due to her experience working at Ernie's Drug, St. Paul. Misti Evans and Christi Evans keep the chuck wagon rolling at Ma's and Pa's in Castlewood. Michael Shell has been rolling the dough and also bringing it in at Pizza Hut, in Castlewood. Jason Street keeps the gas pumping at the Zippy Mart in Richlands.

Sarah Dickenson

May I take your order please? . .
Michelle Wright displays service with a smile as she takes another order at Giovanni's Pizza.

Where's the beef? . . Eric Smith makes sure the beef stays fresh at Piggly Wiggly.

Make that a double . . . Kenny McCulley, like a kid caught with his hand in the cookie jar, serves up some ice cream at Ma and Pa's.

Just For Fun?

Even though some students think physical education is fun, we know better. There are fun times, times to play, but just when we become content we must abide with the President and do the physical fitness tests. Now it is time to get serious and get fit to show they are ready for success and to receive the big award. With the teachers like Tom Allen, Brenda Johnston, Darrell Taylor, and Dan Glass, some of us do not even want to leave. Once the physical education days are over one can only dream of the times they had playing and exercising with their friends.

Kristy Leonard

Watch out boys . . . T-Tom Dollarhyde shows the other classmates how to play hockey like a man.

98, 99, 100 . . . Nathan Long tries to keep count and condition at the same time.

Gotcha last . . . Coach Allen tries to defend himself as Mrs. Kilgore, Kelly Salyer, Coach Johnston, and Carrie Bush drill him with volleyballs.

Conquering the Challenge

The teachers in the Special Education section as well as the students work hard every day to conquer the challenge that life has dealt them. They know that life is not all that easy and there are ways to make it better and make the best of each day. When conquering the difficulties, they are successful. They continue to work on their goals diligently every day.

The staff of Coach Taylor, Mrs. Atwood, Mrs. Jessee, Mrs. Castle, and Mrs. Bush not only know but show these students success. These students and staff members are really special to many.

Kristy Leonard

Time is ticking. . . Lisa Rowe and Jessica Howington sit near the clock and wait for the bell to ring.

Say it again. . . Daniel Beavers and Charlie Osborne look at the chalkboard to get their assignments.

A little help. . . Billy Page, Mrs. Atwood, and Jennifer Shortridge try to determine how to work a problem.

A Square Root

Ever since there was school there has been math. The only major changes in math over the years have been the transformation from the abacus to the calculator and now nobody calls it arithmetic. Two + two still equals four, and there will always be a reason why you need math. CHS has its share of wise and skillful mathematic professors: Mr. Sabo, Mr. Shortt, Mrs. Skeens, Mr. Glass, and Mr. Hodges. Any one of these teachers would be glad to help you get your roots dug into math.

Josh Sawyers

Is someone behind me? . . . Crystal Herndon discovers that she has sprouted rabbit ears thanks to Heath Gibson.

That explains it all. . . . Amanda Elam gets the answer to the problem from Mrs. Skeens.

What's going on? . . . Tanner Taylor and Brandon Willis try to figure out what Coach Shortt means by a writing implement.

Come and Get It

After a long hard day on the trail, a hungry cowboy always needs a good meal. So on every round-up or wagon train there is always a cook. There is no better place to learn to cook than in Foods at CHS. Maybe one day these young cooks could serve hot coffee and chili beans from the chuckwagon. Just always remember to use Pace Picante sauce, and nothing from New York City.

Josh Sawyers

Bombs away. . . Leon Marshall gets ready to find out the yolk is on him courtesy of Mrs. Bevins.

Is that the Pillsbury Doughboy? . .
No, it is Daniel Jessee getting ready for his popping fresh dough.

Twisted sisters. . . Gay Skeens and Sheri Steffy show off their homemade pretzels.

Silver Dollar City

Economics and Sociology, a new class offered to Castlewood High School students, has been quite a hit. Economics is a study about stocks and the proper way to handle money. This class has helped many students learn the value of money.

The second part of the class, sociology, is the study of how people interact with one another in their environment. Due to the success of this new class, there will hopefully be many more new classes in the near future.

Jacob Musick

Check out our private transportation. . .Shawn Kiser and Brian Salyer act as if the Pittston helicopter is theirs during an economics field trip.

The Great Depression. . .Brooke Hall, Amy Combs, Sarah Holbrook, and Josh Sawyers enter the exciting world of Economics.

Why me?. . .Wendee Minton looks extremely depressed as she studies for an upcoming Economics test.

Booze Busters

Round 'em up! The importance of SADD is to encourage students to help decrease the number of drunk drivers. Students Against Drunk Driving is one of the most important clubs at CHS. This is the place to start with the young buckaroos to teach them the dangers of drinking and driving. Catrina Mullins, Rebecca Wallace, David Owens, and Josh Miotke along with Mrs. Miotke attended the Youth Alcohol Drug Abuse Prevention Project conference in Farmville, VA. at Longwood College. The YADAPP conference is to teach the students how to prevent the use of alcohol and drugs among the young people of their school and in the community.

Travis Dishman

SADD Club . . . From left: Josh Saxwers, Bobby Hall, Shaun Austin, Brandi Roberts, Jason Castle, Amy Wampler, Amanda King, Melanie Salvers, Kelly Salver, Naomi Bush, Brian Salver, Niki White, Sara Gibson, Josh Miotke, Daniel Glover, Kimberly Woods, Alsha Roberts, Deborah Derry, Christina Gillenwater, Crystal Plaster, Dawn Shell, Rebecca Sutherland, David Owens, Catrina Mullins, Shannon Gasteel, Christi Evans, Jennifer Broadwater, Kristy Leonard, Kristen Dye, Amanda Elam, Jessica Bradley, Kendra Brooks, B.J. Lasley, Mary Hicks, Reagan Porter, Shannon Duncan, Jennifer Newberry, Brianne Gasteel, Jodie Finch, Michael Skeens, Amanda Vicars, Tonya Long, Wynonah Bush, Jennifer Fields, Mary Newberry, Jason Hatfield, Becki Wallace, Mist Evans, Mrs. Breeding

Miss President . . . Becki Wallace, SADD Club president, takes time from her busy schedule for a minute's peace.

Keep it clean . . . SADD students do their part in keeping CHS clean and beautiful.

Joan of the Jungle

This year CHS is losing some unforgettable people and one of those is the heart of the yearbook. Mrs. Jo Ann Wright. Mrs. Wright came to CHS seven years ago and took over the yearbook along with English classes. The yearbook has come a long way with Mrs. Wright and the yearbook staffs will never forget her. Her job is never done, and she is always looking for ways to make each yearbook the best ever. Perhaps this year will be the best because they say, "Save the best for last." (That goes for the prom too)! As we all know this is Mrs. Wright's last yearbook and prom at CHS. We thank her for all the memories and hard work she has given CHS. She may be gone, but not forgotten.

Allison Buckles

Final touches. . Mrs. Wright changes the ladder diagram for the last time this year.

My hero. . Mrs. Wright is caught kissing the Elvis, not "T" Elvis.

Dancing her "blues" away. . Mrs. Wright dances with "T" Elvis at her farewell party.

Warning: Contagious Disappearing Virus

Along with the others that are leaving, Mrs. Huff has decided to pull the plug. Ms. FBLA herself has decided to further her education in computers. She dedicated much of her time to the business department trying to make it the best it could be. From curing viruses to planning FBLA functions, Mrs. Huff was always there. Thanks for all the good times and all the memories. Even though we will miss you, we wish you the best that life has to offer.

Allison Buckles

Dressing anyone? . . Mrs. Huff is playing waitress at the staff cookout.

Jack of all trades. . Mrs. Huff even takes out the trash after the FBLA party.

Her spirits live on. . Mrs. Huff, Steve Justice, Dustin Phillips, and Mrs. Allen bring out the Halloween spirits.

Inter“pose”

WANTED. . . . Quality Business

The ads section is one of the most important sections in the yearbook. This section requires a great deal of time and work. It includes dealing with contracts, money, business cards, and other things of that matter. Though frequently overlooked, many do take the time to look through the businesses who purchased an ad. The yearbook staff sought businesses to buy advertisements, and without those patrons our yearbook would not be possible. Thanks to all the patrons who helped produce our 1995 yearbook.

Sarah Dickenson

It's Elvis. . . Mary Ann Newberry, Misti Evans, and Shannon Duncan listen as the Elvis doll serenades them with a little "Blue Suede Shoes."

Ultra cool. . . Isn't that James Dean and The King himself? Jacob Musiek and Travis Lambert do their 50's era impression during the "Elvis Live" performance.

Hard at work. . . "Joan of the Jungle" Wright struggles to find the next customer's yearbook.

The shirt speaks. . . Mary Hicks, the upcoming SCA president, expresses her new job views on her T-shirt.

Turn it up. . . Travis Disman gets into the music while Kristy Leonard and Becky McRenolds look a little homesick.

Hold that smile. . . Since no one else will take their picture, Tonya Holbrook and Allison Buckles take a picture of themselves.

Who's in there? . . Travis Lambert, Catrina Mullins, and Tonya Holbrook look to see who they can find.

Coming through. . . Josh Sawyers takes time off from the yearbook to have fun.

Colophon

The 1995 Castleonian was published by Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas. There were 250 yearbooks printed with 176 pages per copy. The approximate cost of publishing Volume 45 was approximately $12,000.00. The 7 3/4 x 10 1/2 book was printed on enamel 80 paper with Smyth binding. Black and white backdrops were used in the Student Life and People sections and on the divider pages. Backdrop BD41BW was used in the Student Life section and BD28BW was used in the People section. Backdrop BD31BW was used on the divider pages. Background blue 11 was used on eight pages in the Senior section. The ads section was pop-printed with PP009. The cover features a brown matte background with applied blue. Name stamping was done in gold foil. Endsheets are oatmeal colored featuring the table of contents in blue 860.

Yearbook copy was standard in Garamond Condensed, except for the dropped letter in the Clubs section which was done in Durante. Body copy was 10 points, captions in 8 points, and headlines were 30 and 36 points.

School pictures were taken by Olan Mills Photography of Bristol, TN. We would like to thank all patrons of our yearbook without whom this production would not have been possible.

Happy Trails To You. . .

As this journey comes to a close, so does this year. As we travel down life's dusty road, we must keep our horse in step. The memories of this incredible journey will always be branded in each of our minds. When other journeys begin, always remember to give the best. As we ride off into the sunset, always remember the good times because once they are gone, they can never be roped again.

Allison Buckles

The perfect couple. . .Sandford Fields and Jennifer Broadwater look stunning together at the prom.

Until next year. . .Nancy Holbrook and Beth Davis can not wait for an exciting new year.

Gone but not forgotten. . .Steve Phillips, Lincoln Osborne, Matthew Salyers, and Shawn Kiser show off their cap and gowns.

Dear Diary. . .Sarah Holbrook expresses her feelings about her Senior year.

No more wrinkles. . .Shannon Casteel teaches Eric Smith and Georgeanna Wallace how to iron.

Friends Forever. . .Beth Osborne and Nicole Musser will never forget the good times they shared.

See ya! . .Brandon Elam and Denise Chaffin wave good-bye to everyone.

... Until We Meet Again!
